Your love by the numbers

Thanks to your kindness, Meseret and her family don't feel hopeless: they feel God's protection.

But how does he know that? Because God provided a way for his sister, Meseret, to go to school.

Not too long ago, Hantamu and Meseret (pictured on cover) were in a really difficult situation. Their mother died when Meseret was only one year old. Then, they learned Meseret had HIV. Hantamu was suddenly her caregiver, and as he remembers: "I was hopeless. We were helpless and vulnerable, and I couldn't imagine what look life would look like for her."

But it wasn't long before Hantamu could say "we give glory to God." Meseret is now able to receive regular medication, and slowly, the social stigma against HIV is improving.

Here's where you came in. God used kind people like you to make a way for Hantamu and Meseret.

Meseret is able to attend school where she learns about God's plan for her life. Where she sees selfless, loving role models who are shaping her dreams. "She sees people suffer and wants to be a doctor so that she can give service to others," says Hantamu.

Thank you for praying. Thank you for giving. Thank you for shaping Meseret's dreams.

THE POWER OF YOUR PRAYERS

How your prayers are bringing the love of Christ to a family in Ethiopia

Your prayers are powerful. They reach all the way to Hantamu in Ethiopia. Just listen to what he has to say: "I believe in the power of prayer, and I know God responds."

With new classrooms, Nueva Jerusalén can now serve more students and continue being a model school in its community.

SCHOOLS

IN SERVICE TOGETHER

Thank you for serving God and communities in Nicaragua!

Joel, a teacher in Nicaragua, has a dream for his students' futures: "I see them as great Christians serving God."

Did you know that when you gave your most generous gift... when you said a prayer for students... when you volunteered your time...

ONLY THE BEST FOR THE CHILDREN OF GOD

Your faithful generosity equips teachers to make education the best it can be.

If you were a child at risk in Guatemala, it would be easy to believe what people say. After all, “people think that because the students are at risk, it doesn’t matter what kind of education we give them,” says Alejandra, a Guatemalan educator.

But that’s not what our partner AMG Guatemala says. They want education to be the best it can be.

Alejandra and her fellow teachers can give students their best because you’re behind them.

And we can see that you want that too. In 2023, you made it possible for over 90 teachers in Guatemala to attend trainings and workshops.

At the workshops, they learned conflict resolution styles, new methods for classroom assessment, and ways to integrate the Gospel into the classroom.

And because of that, teachers could give their best to students. Because as Alejandra said, “I think we can give the best for them. They deserve the best because they are children of God.”

Thank you for investing in teachers. Thank you for helping them grow. Thank you for giving the best – your best – to the children of God.

when you wrote an encouraging note...

You were modelling that dream for Nicaraguan students. You showed them that all around the world, there are great Christians serving God.

You and thousands of others rallied around Nueva Jerusalén School to help build new classrooms.

Now, Nueva Jerusalén has room for 70 more students. That means in 10 years, 700 more children will have been raised up as agents of transformation all because of your generosity.

Joel has a thank you message for all you did, and we echo it. “I greatly thank you for everything you have done for our school. We love you in the Lord and I wish God would multiply everything you’ve done for us.”

Thank you for loving Nueva Jerusalén and making new classrooms possible. The Covenant Co-Impact team from Edmonton, AB, got to see their own generosity and your love firsthand:

The appreciation from the school, the community and the local people and the hugs from the school children were unbelievable. Their dedication to Christian education is amazing and you see God at work in these communities. It was a heart-warming experience like no other.” - John & Jeanette V.
